We help businesses get ahead with sustainable development.

In a rapidly changing environment, businesses have to adapt to changes quickly. Conscious commerce is emerging and we understand how important it is to help businesses and consumers to navigate this global demand. We make it simple and easy.

Our vision is a future where sustainability is a leap forward. A future where all of our basic daily use products are sustainable. Sustainable products have a low or negative carbon footprint and are often biodegradable.

3E - Core values of our company are: ECOLOGY, ETHICS and ECONOMY. We believe that these values will help business, people and Earth

15% is the annual growth of companies focusing on eco innovations. Eco friendly solutions are attracting both customers and investors.

71 % of consumers said they were more likely to buy brands that package their products in paper rather than in other materials.

All of our products help to stop deforestation. Our main aim is to save trees and our natural habitat to regain the balance in the environment.

What makes us different?

At Natural Materials Unlimited, our name encapsulates our commitment to exploring the infinite potential of natural resources. With nearly a decade of dedicated experience, we've nurtured partnerships with esteemed suppliers from the EU and Asia. This extensive network allows us to promise unparalleled quality and unwavering sustainability in every product, making us your ideal white-label manufacturing partner.

For almost ten years, we've meticulously curated an impressive repertoire of the finest natural materials in close collaboration with our global partners. This deep-rooted bond empowers us to guarantee top-tier quality and resolute sustainability in each product we bring to life. Our foundational philosophy, grounded in the Triple Bottom Line principle—Planet, People, Profit—drives us to prioritize the environment and humanity above all. While commercial success remains crucial, our mission to democratize sustainable products ensures they are accessible to all, catalyzing a meaningful change. Choose us, and embrace a partnership that not only crafts remarkable products but also shapes a future aligned with your values.
